

Preben Munch Nielsen discusses his childhood in Snagerstein, Denmark; Danish politics; the rise of Hitler; distributing Studentinus Iftatin, the Student's News, for the resistance; the Elsinore Sewing Club; his teacher, Froida Yacobsen, who fought with the resistance; the Danish King, King Christian X; his participation in helping Jews in Denmark; joining the Danish Brigade; the night the Germans forces surrendered; post-war punishment for collaborators in Denmark; meeting his first wife and getting married; his second wife; his children; donating artifacts to the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum; speaking to groups about why the Holocaust failed in Denmark; the importance of NATO; and acts of contemporary genocide.